International Committees

ICOM members are encouraged to join International Committees, which are special interest groups dedicated to promoting various museum disciplines as listed below. The International Committees bring together experts of museum specialties.

The 30 International Committees are global think tanks on museum, and more generally, heritage, matters. They define the museum professional's standards, share scientific information, establish partnerships with other organisations and develop recommendations for ICOM members.

ICOM members are entitled to join one International Committee with full voting rights and join up to three more as non-voting members. By joining an International Committee:

- You will receive up-to-date news from the International Committee, and have access to their publications and newsletters
- You may participate in their annual meetings and other activities, with preferential rates.
- You may participate in the discussions among colleagues of the International Committee.
- You can take part in joint activities organised with other ICOM International Committees, ICOM National Committees and other organisations.
- You can join the special interest or working groups of some International Committees.

Please indicate in order of preference which International Committees you'd like to join as a voting member (1) and others which interest you as a non-voting member (2 - 4):
